ClearChoice - Independent sound advice you can trust

Which? Best hearing aid provider overview

Following an extensive survey and the views of over 400 Which? members who had purchased hearing aids in the last 3 years, independent retailers came out top with a customer score of 84%. This score was based on customer satisfaction and recommendation which included levels of service and aftercare.

Are we qualified?

Our Audiologists hold advanced degrees from accredited universities and have special training in the identification, assessment and non-medical treatment of hearing disorders. They complete a full-time internship, pass a demanding national examination and must be fully licensed. This makes our Audiologists the most qualified to advise you on your hearing.

How long have we been helping people with hearing difficulties?

We have 35 years experience and have fitted over ten thousand digital hearing instruments. An audiologist who has fitted thousands of patients is more likely to recognise and solve problems. Fitting hearing aids correctly is both an art and a science. Our Audiologists will maximise the potential of your hearing instruments by using all of the features of your ideal aid, while the less skilled might fail to activate up to 50% of the hearing aid's capabilities.

How will you determine what is best for my hearing situation?

Our Audiologist will take a detailed history of your hearing problem, your expectations, and lifestyle. In addition a thorough tone and speech testing assessment will be carried out. Measurements for comfortable hearing levels are also tested.

Our comprehensive testing is to improve your hearing sensibility and re-establish normal hearing perception.

Are there any hearing aid manufacturers you recommend?

As Independent Audiologists, we work with all the hearing aid manufacturers from around the world. Every hearing loss is unique and one manufacturer product line may not meet the needs of everyone! As we work with the world's choice, we are in the best position possible to select the correct device that will match your needs.

The amazing video otoscope

Let's show you what's happening inside...

Our state-of-the-art video otoscope system can show inside your ear canal right up to your ear drum, all visible on the colour screen.

See inside your ear like never before, with no discomfort whatsoever!

Video otoscopy allows us to clearly visualise the ear canal and ear drum by projecting an image onto a computer monitor.

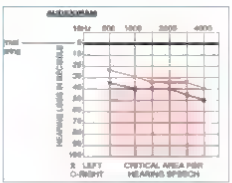
Using video otoscopy, we can see first hand any conditions such as the presence or build up of wax, or debris in the canal that may cause problems with your hearing.

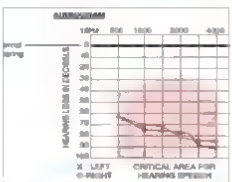
Give your ears a clean bill of health!

Video otoscopy ultimately provides both patients and audiologists with a greater understanding and appreciation of what is happening inside your ear.

Our free Audiometric Test will help us identify your hearing difficulties

If you want to know more about how better hearing can be achieved - your local Hearing Aid Audiological experts will give you the best advice FREE. There is never any obligation and all the valuable information is available to you.





FREE AUDIOMETRIC TEST

Following a discussion on the history of your hearing and a brief ear examination, our Hearing Aid Audiologist will carry out a free comprehensive hearing test. You are asked to respond to a variety of frequencies which allow the Hearing Aid Audiologist to plot your results on a graph. With the results explained, the test is over... it's as simple as that!

We often find it is a great help when testing your hearing to have a familiar voice with you. Part of our full hearing assessment is to present speech in what is called a Speech Clarity Test. A family member or close friend is ideal and they are free to help you with the hearing test as well as ask questions which you may not have thought of yourself.

Planning for future city

Views are being sought on the future of Oxford, pictured here

By Dominic Thomas

THE time for discussing the future development of Oxford is nearly at an end.

Consultations over the Local Plan, which will guide the city's development until 2036 are taking place until August 5, giving members of the public the chance to put forward their suggestions as to what the future priorities for planners and developers should be.

The plan will tackle the city's challenges of housing, transport and protection of the city's iconic historical environment, while balancing that with economic growth.

The city council expects its population will grow by 20 per cent in the next 20 years, while Oxford is already facing a major housing crisis.

Over half its workforce has to commute from outside the city due to rising house prices and a lack of affordable housing, adding to the strain on the city's transport infrastructure.

Councillor Alex Hollingsworth, Board Member for Planning, Transport and Regulatory Services, said: "Oxford is a medieval city with 21st century transport problems in it.

"We need to think about how to provide working solutions within the constraints of space that we face while catering for a growing high-tech economy.

"We are calling on the public to get

WITH HEARPLAN YOU HAVE PEACE OF MIND

Normally when you buy hearing aids you are also paying for all of your initial assessments, fitting fees and ongoing hearing tests and care but we realise that paying for all of this in one go can sometimes be prohibitive and not all hearing aid users require the same level of aftercare and end up paying for something they do not use. So we have introduced HearPlan.

For a monthly subscription you will receive:

- All of the care and support you need to improve your hearing
- £200.00 off the cost of each hearing instrument.
- Preferential pricing on new technology if you choose to upgrade your hearing aid
- Offers on accessories that you may need to help you hear in every environment.

Councillors condemn big rise in hate crime

By Dominic Thomas

CITY councillors in Oxford voted unanimously in favour of condemning a rise in hate crimes following the EU referendum.

They backed the cross-party motion put forward by Cllr John Tanner at a council meeting on Monday. It followed a 20 per cent national rise in hate crimes reported in the wake of the referendum decision to leave the EU, according to figures from the National Police Chiefs Council.

Cllr Tanner said he was proud of the people of Oxford for voting to remain, but said: "One of the things which disturbs me most is the rise in expressions of hatred toward foreigners or people perceived to be foreigners that has come about.

"This is being used by some very strange people that are using the Brexit vote as a cover to feel that they can openly express their racial hatred."

He pointed out how the incidents did not just affect EU migrants: "Unfortunately Eastern Europeans are sometimes the butt of this abuse, but it's just as likely that it could be somebody of Pakistani origin that was born and bred in this country that comes in for this abuse."

He encouraged councillors to send out the message that "Everyone is welcome here welcome to stay, welcome to live on an equal basis." Councillors heard from several anecdotal stories of racial abuse in Oxford in discussion of the motion.

Dr Sheik Ramzy director of Oxford's Islamic Information Centre, who was invited to speak by Cllr Craig Simmons, said: "Last week a lady in a scarf came to me and said she had just been sat down and two or three people started attacking her with abuse.

"I've seen it myself, even young children and students shouting and effing in the street. You have to be there to see it. This is very important if you don't want a division."

Cllr Jamila Begum Azad, also shared a similar story saying "I just want to say one example of a Muslim woman, who was sitting with her children at a bus stop, wearing a hijab. A man said to her 'why are you wearing the scarf?' and assaulted her in front of her two children saying 'take it off, I'll rip it off'. He also said 'leave and go home', even though she was born in the UK and her family is English."

She added "We are proud to live in a tolerant society. Racial abuse has no place in our society. We will not allow hate to become acceptable and I ask the city council to work to ensure local authorities have support and resources to fight racism."

The motion was passed the day before reports of a racially aggravated assault on a number of young people at National Trust site Buscot Park, near Faringdon, in which one victim suffered a broken cheekbone and was taken to hospital.

Witnesses sought to fatal Cowley crash

A MAN died after his car crashed and caught fire in the Cowley area of Oxford in the early hours of Monday.

The driver, who has not yet been identified, is believed to have died in the collision which happened at about 2.40am.

Police and fire crews found the man inside a blue Volvo S60 which was ablaze in Garsington Road.

The car left the road, went over the roundabout at Oxford Business Park South, crashed into a hedge and caught fire.

The fire service was called to extinguish the fire but the driver was confirmed dead at the scene by the ambulance service.

The road was closed but reopened at about 7am.

Police are investigating and have made an appeal for witnesses.

Investigating officer PC Julia Stroud, of the Serious Collision Investigation Unit based in Bicester said: "I need the public's help to piece together what happened during this collision.

"If you saw the Volvo before the collision, the collision itself or have any other information about the collision please contact police as soon as possible.

"The easiest way to contact us is by visiting your nearest police station or by calling 101 and quoting reference number 113 (25/7)."

Anybody with any information can also call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Missing girl plea

OXFORD: A missing girl from Birmingham could be in Oxford.

Fifteen-year-old Amran Yusuf left home in Lozells, west Birmingham, on July 2, but her family has not heard from her since a week last Sunday and are very worried about her wellbeing.

She was last seen by a friend in Oxford on July 20, but no contact has been made with her since.

Amran is described as black, 5ft 7ins tall with a stocky build and shoulder-length straight black hair. She also wears glasses.

Contact police on 101.

Trust chief denies plan will necessarily mean cuts

Health plan sparks concern

By Dominic Thomas

CONSULTATIONS are continuing over plans to transform the delivery of health services across Oxford.

Oxford's Town Hall hosted the latest of six Big Conversation sessions across the county this month, when the public is encouraged to air views as to how the NHS should be remodelled over the next five years.

Friday's event was part of the Oxfordshire Healthcare Transformation Plan which will change the way services are delivered across the county and offered members of the public the chance to talk to NHS staff.

Dominic Hardisty chief operating officer of Oxford Health, said: "I would say our big idea is a very simple one about care closer to home – to move from a model that is very hospital-centric and very expensive and very medicalised to one where people are kept healthy well and independent in their own homes, and enable a shift of resources in the same direction."

Mr Hardisty denied the plan would necessarily result in cuts adding: "Although financial austerity is one of the drivers, there are some other drivers of change including an ageing population and workforce pressures particularly in this part of the country. It is possible to do more with less because at the moment we are spending money in the wrong places. You have to transition. There's a lot of change that has to happen and so we have to make sure we don't cause unnecessary disruption or lack of access to services as we go."

Oxford resident Lou Harris, who attended the event, said: "The interesting thing is that they're talking. There's a good attempt to communicate.

"My main concerns were that there's still a lot of fixing the results rather than looking more at the causes and moving from fixing to identifying the causes because it would probably be easier and less expensive."

Retired doctor Alan Cohen said: "The problem with all of this is that there's nothing about health outcomes, which is surely the most important thing. Another is that there is an enormous evidence base for how to do this – and we're in Oxford, one of the world's authorities for doing medical research – and there's nothing here about implementing the evidence base."

Council is criticised

involved in our Local Plan by attending scheduled events in your area or visiting our website and taking part online."

The first event runs from 11am to 5pm on Saturday July 30 at South Oxford Adventure Playground, Whitehouse Road.

The consultations which have been running since June have caused concern about the council's plan to expand the city by building on Green Belt land.

Sietska Boeles, the Oxford district representative of the Campaign to Protect Rural England, said: "Many people don't realise that this means bringing districts closer together and using up green belt land, so this is worrying."

Martin Cavalier, owner of a site in Old Marston, also criticised the council for dismissing viable options within the city boundary, saying: "We have provided Oxford City Council with all of the information needed as part of their call for sites request. However they seem to have dismissed this viable opportunity out of hand.

"If Oxford wants neighbouring authorities to give up their own valuable Green Belt land to help meet its housing need, it surely must be right that they first demonstrate that the City is making the best use of its own resources?"

New service

OXFORD: A new bus service has been launched by Deputy Lord Mayor, Cllr Rae Humberstone.

Oxford Bus Company and Stagecoach started their joint 3A bus service to Littlemore on Monday.

Councillors rode the service, due to start shortly and replace the T2 bus from Speedwell Street to Oxford Science Park.

Landlords fined

OXFORD: Three landlords have been ordered to pay fines totalling £11,000 after being convicted of housing offences.

Adbul Saleem Chaudhry, 66, of Headley Way, Oxford, was prosecuted for housing three people in a high risk HMO above a restaurant. He received a fine of £4,000.

Shoukat Khan, 44, of Duke Street, Oxford, was fined for breaching nine conditions of the licence on his HMO in Earl Street and was fined £2,000.

Deborah May Humes, 57, of Inott Furze, Oxford, was also fined £5,000 for managing an unlicensed HMO.

Chemical leak

COWLEY: One man was taken to hospital in the early hours of Friday after a large chemical leak at the BMW Mini plant in Cowley.

The worker was checked over at the John Radcliffe Hospital after breathing in vapour from the 100 litres of hydrochloric acid spilt from a container.

Emails reveal frustration at campaign's persistence

By Dominic Thomas

A FREEDOM of Information (FOI) request by a protester in a bid to save a swimming pool has revealed councillors' frustrations with the campaign.

Speaking at the city's full council meeting on Monday, Nigel Gibson, of the Save Temple Cowley Pool campaign group, read from an email by Cllr Christine Simm, board member for culture and communities.

The email, dated from February 10 2016, read: "I am sure we are all beyond frustrated by the STCP people's continued presence at council meetings."

Mr Gibson then read a further email from council chief executive David Edwards also acquired through a FOI request which read: "No doubt there will be an FOI – so let's make sure that correspondence is clearly marked." Mr Gibson said it showed an appalling lack of transparency on the part of the council.

The pool closed in December 2014 and faces demolition to make way for housing, having been sold to housing developer Catalyst which owns a 999-year lease on the site.

Mr Gibson argued that there was still a need for leisure facilities in the Cowley area, adding "Labour councillors are not enamoured that we come back to remind you of the folly of your decision.

"But you should remember why we do this. It's the massive support we still receive whenever we meet the public."

Mr Gibson received a written response from Cllr Linda Smith, board member for leisure parks and sport, which stated: "I understand why Temple Cowley residents who used the pool were sad to see it go and it is true that local residents now have to travel further to swim.

"However, it has been replaced with an up-to-date, first-class facility in nearby Blackbird Leys which has resulted in a dramatic increase in users, a wider leisure offer and a reduction in carbon emissions."

Fellow campaigner Judith Harley attended the meeting to request further information about the lease held by Catalyst.

A written response from Cllr Price said that the information was publically available via its website.

Former Cherwell School pupil denies joining IS

AN Oxford man dubbed Jihadi Jack after travelling to Syria has denied joining the so-called Islamic State.

Jack Letts, 20, was thought to be the first white Briton fighting in Syria to join the jihadist terror group last year.

He has been under investigation by police since he left the country in 2015.

But speaking to broadcaster Channel 4 News on Monday, Mr Letts said he "opposes a non-Islamic system" and has no plans to return home.

In the telephone interview, he said: "I came here searching for the truth and people of the truth, and I don't regret that I came."

He said the UK government might consider him a terrorist because he "opposes a non-Islamic system and man-made laws" but he was not a fighter.

He also described non-Muslims as "dirty".

Counter terrorism police revealed in January they had been investigating the whereabouts of Mr Letts since March 2015 after he travelled to Syria.

He claims to have narrowly survived a bombing by the coalition with just a scratch.

The Muslim convert and former pupil of The Cherwell School told his parents he was travelling to Kuwait to study Arabic in September 2014, before secretly travelling to Syria.

He is suspected to be living in Iraq, married and living under a different name.

Mr Letts' parents are due to appear in court on January 9 accused of funding terrorism by sending money to their son. The hearing is set to last up to four weeks.

Organic farmer John Letts, 55, and book editor Sally Lane, 54, are charged with making money available for terrorism.

Drugs offence

DIDCOT A London man has been convicted of a drug offence in Didcot.

Dnss Dekhtsss, 21, of Linacre Road, Brent, pleaded guilty at Oxford Magistrates' Court last Wednesday to possessing with intent to supply heroin, a controlled class A drug.

Police detained Dekhtsss in Sandringham Road in the middle of a suspected drug deal. He will be sentenced August 19 at Oxford Crown Court.

Vehicle boost

WITNEY Witney Community Hospital has received a new £30,000 patient vehicle.

President of Witney Rotary Club Ashley Farmer unveiled the VW Caddy Maxi at Witney Carnival earlier this month.

It was bought after fundraising by staff, the hospital's league of friends and Rotary.

Power outage

DIDCOT A contractor digging up cables caused a power cut to more than 1,300 homes in the Didcot area including Orchard Centre, shops on Tuesday.

Cables dug up by the workers in Queensway, Didcot, caused the outage at 11.54am.

Power was restored in stages throughout the afternoon with all power reinstated at 5.56pm.

Oxfordshire bucks trend over use of hospital beds

By George Welch

THE numbers of people remaining in Oxfordshire's hospital beds when they no longer need to be there has fallen more than 45 per cent.

The latest figures for Oxfordshire buck national trends, which saw Delayed Transfers of Care (DToC) rise by 25 per cent between May 2015 and May 2016

Oxfordshire had previously been at the bottom of the DToC 'league table'

The improvement in Oxfordshire came after a joint initiative by Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), Oxford University Hospitals Oxford Health and Oxfordshire County Council.

The scheme helped move people out of hospital more quickly once they had been treated.

The £2 million initiative, launched last December, included funding extra temporary care home beds and the recruitment of more home care staff to support people in their own homes

David Smith, chief executive of OCCG said, "These encouraging figures demonstrate that targeted spending and excellent co-operation between the NHS and our social care partners has made a real difference to many older frail patients."

John Jackson, director for adult social care at Oxfordshire County Council said "These improvements have resulted from a consistent focus across all agencies in tackling this issue and the oversight of democratically-elected councillors in scrutinising the situation."

Meanwhile Healthwatch Oxfordshire has submitted requests under the Freedom of Information Act to most of the region's CCGs asking for more details of their Sustainability and Transformation (STP) plans

Requests have been sent to the seven CCGs of Buckinghamshire Oxfordshire and West Berkshire, which pay for most of the NHS services in the area, for copies of both the initial and current plans submitted to NHS England.

Spotlight on foodbanks

RESEARCHERS at Oxford University say one in three people helped by foodbanks last year was a child

They have called for policymakers to reconsider the way the benefit system works.

The team from the Centre for Social Investigation at Nuffield College were studying the rising demand for emergency food in West Cheshire.

Report author Dr Elisabeth Garratt said emergency food referrals rose in 2016 and there is "every indication that foodbanks are here to stay"

"These findings show there are huge levels of poverty – even in a country as wealthy as ours. The results suggest that policymakers need to look again at the way the benefits system operates and ensure that people in work are paid a wage they can live on."

Last year, almost 2,900 three-day food supplies were handed out in West Cheshire

The study also drew on more detailed data from West Cheshire Foodbank concerning the reasons for foodbank referral and how long people expected their income crisis to last

The results show that benefit delays accounted for one in five referrals, while benefit sanctions resulted in one in 12 referrals, with one fifth of those affected by sanctions being children.

Although a large proportion of food parcels were concentrated in highly disadvantaged wards they were distributed to people living in all 46 wards

Younger adults aged 17-24, and those of working-age, aged 25-64, were typically referred because of problems with their benefits

Cloudy2Clear Announce Which? Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business you are TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted Which Trusted Trader status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear a long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass as a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that that approach is a major factor in his success.

The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously my family as nationally important as Which? now recognise.

So, if your windows are sweated up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Protest marks a month on from EU referendum

By Dominic Thomas

PEOPLE in Oxford gathered on Broad Street last week to mark one month since the UK's decision to leave the European Union.

Guest speakers from the Greens and the Liberal Democrats took to the stage to discuss the future of Brexit on Thursday

The event was organised by the pro-remain group Stand Together Oxford, which organised a demonstration a month ago in reaction to the referendum result

While the nationwide result was 52 per cent in favour of leaving the European Union, over 70 per cent of voters in Oxford voted to remain

Speaking at the demonstration was former city councillor and ex-Mayor of Oxford Elise Benjamin, who said: "I'm really saddened about the referendum result and all that it says about how divided and broken this country is and how broken our political system is.

"But I'm also heartened by the response of Oxford, in that we are standing in a city where 70 per cent voted remain. I think that's something to be very proud of."

She was joined by Lib Dem MEP Catherine Bearded who said: "The Lib Dems are pro European and nothing has changed.

"We will continue to fight to make sure that if we can stop our exit we will, and that failing that we have the best exit that we possibly can and that we will campaign to get back in as soon as we can. My colleagues in Europe want us to stay

"You want us to stay and most of Britain wants us to stay."

Both speakers were joined by fellow campaigners for Britain to remain in the EU and spelt out their party's pledges for tackling the issue.

Among those listening at the demonstration was Ben Ewell, 20 who said, "Personally I voted remain

"I've been more inclined to vote for a party that is pro remain, which has changed my view as I'm a Labour supporter and if the Lib Dems are pro remain then it will definitely change my voting at the next election."

Mark Burton, 31, also shared his opinions saying: "I'm aware of what's happening and I feel strongly about the situation, there's so little ways to be proactive about it because there's so many forces out of our control."

He added: "I joined the Labour party but I revoked my membership I think I joined out of desperation but I was misguided.

"I'd rather vote for something that I believe in completely"

Bike fans rev up

• The 1912 Indian

HUNDREDS of bikes and cars rolled up at The Horse and Harrow in West Hagbourne for the annual John Wheeler Bike Night last Tuesday

The meeting of an estimated 1,500 people from the North Berkshire Motorcycle Club showed a wide variety of vehicles from all eras and styles.

There was also a trials display from members of the club, including riding over jumps and hazards such as cars

Among the most impressive bikes on show was a classic 1912 Indian, which had been rebuilt from parts brought back from Tanzania by club president John Lane.

There were also trophies awarded to various classes at the show with the best competition bike being won by Julian Wigg, from Winslow, for his Hagon Jap grasstrack bike

The best bike in show was won by Alan Taylor of Drayton, for his 500cc SILK, and the prize for the best rigid was awarded to Abingdon's Roy Lewis for his AJS VTWIN

The event is organised annually in memory of a former member of the club who passed away in 1995, with money raised being donated to the air ambulance service.

Refugee move

OXON Plans to welcome more than 40 refugee children from camps near war-torn Syria have been agreed by Oxfordshire County Council

The Home Office is keen to agree with local authorities a voluntary approach to sharing the number of refugee children across the UK.

No authority is expected to take more than 0.07 per cent of their child population which would represent 99 children in Oxfordshire

But the council, which currently has 55 refugee children under 18 is set to welcome about 40 more.

Trio sentenced

DIDCOT A Didcot trio have been handed suspended sentences after stealing £13 000 worth of food and alcohol from their workplace

Zija Kazia, Dickson Tapa and Zsolt Keszthelyi admitted one count of theft by employee after stealing food and alcohol – including malt whiskey champagne and rum – from Chef Direct in Didcot.

The catering supplier has a base in Basil Hill Road

Sentencing at Oxford Crown Court on July 15 Recorder Nerys Jefford QC "You were equally responsible and part of a plan to steal from your employer"

Verdict awaited on children centre cuts

By Dominic Thomas

PARENTS in Oxfordshire are awaiting the outcome of a judicial review into the county council's plans to close children's centres

The case against Oxfordshire County Council's decision to cut funding to 26 out its 44 children's centres was heard on Monday and Tuesday last week.

The council took the decision to save £6 million from its annual budget after it curbed initial proposals to cut all funding to children's centre for a saving of £8m by ring-fencing £2m.

Leading campaigner with the group Save Oxfordshire Children Centres Jill Hush said she hoped the judges' verdict would be delivered shortly

She said, ' This really affects the council's budget so hopefully the judge will see that and make his decision quickly I'm hoping he does it in the next week or so "

There is no set time limit on judicial rulings with cases sometimes taking up to three months

The case against the council was brought by parents claiming the county council had not followed proper procedure in making its decision.

It is alleged that the county council failed to carry out a needs assessment as part of its reorganisation plans

Miss Hush said, "For me I think it's really worrying if they haven't done a needs assessment It's worrying if they didn't look into that when it affects 30,000 families "

The court heard from the campaign's barrister David Wolfe how at the time of making the decision "there was still the proposition that savings would be achieved without closing children's centres"

"So insofar as you [councillors] have an understanding of the potential impact of this, you are being told it would maintain frontline services. at the point councillors are making a decision."

In response to the allegations, the council's barrister Peter Oldham said, "An awful lot has moved forward – you can't turn back time."

Miss Hush who had been campaigning for months said, "We have contingency plans that run well into next year Whatever the outcome, we won't stop fighting this

"We can't see that there's ever been a judicial review into children's centres before and we are in touch with different groups around the country as this is happening all the time."

Trust leads bid to improve mental health treatment

A NETWORK of NHS trusts across the south of England and an Oxfordshire based charity have won a bid to improve care for adult mental health service users who may be a risk to others.

Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust will be leading services across one of the six sites testing new approaches to delivering mental health care nationwide

The initiative is part of NHS England's 'Implementing the Five Year Forward View for Mental Health' report, published last week.

Under the initiative led by Oxford Health, seven organisations which specialise in providing mental health care will work together to co-ordinate inpatient and community based services across Buckinghamshire, Oxfordshire, East and West Berkshire Hampshire, the Isle of Wight, and Dorset

In addition to Oxford Health, the organisations include Response an Oxfordshire-based charity that provides home based mental health care The network aims to provide care closer to home and reduce the need for hospital admissions and out-of-area treatments.

Women rob man

BANBURY A man suffered injuries to his face and arm when he was robbed in Banbury's St Mary's churchyard.

The 43-year-old victim was treated at the Horton General Hospital after the attack at 8.15pm on Tuesday July 19.

Three Banbury women, aged 32, 33 and 34, were arrested and bailed until August 12.

Inquest opens

OXFORD An inquest has been opened into the death of Oxford City FC's managing director Colin Taylor, 62, who was found hanged at the club's Marsh Lane stadium shortly after 9am on July 17. The inquest was adjourned for a full hearing on November 2.

Woman jailed

OXFORD A Newbury woman has been jailed after stealing a wallet during choir rehearsals at Wesley Memorial Methodist Church in Oxford.

Laura Emery, 37, of Crawford Place, Newbury, pleaded guilty to three counts of receiving stolen goods, three counts of theft and three counts of fraud.

At Reading Magistrates' Court on July 15, she was given 10 weeks' imprisonment, plus a suspended 16-week term following a number of other thefts in the Newbury area.

Bus services axed

By Dominic Thomas

OXFORDSHIRE said goodbye to 54 bus routes on Wednesday last week after Oxfordshire County Council withdrew its funding for all 119 subsidised routes.

The move saw the end of subsidised bus routes in Oxfordshire as the county council made a cut of £3.7 million.

The remaining 64 bus services that are no longer subsidised are still being run commercially but face an uncertain future. Hugh Jaeger, of Bus Users UK, said: "It's been a backward step and we think it's unnecessary because cuts to bus services are a false economy.

"We're talking an unfeasible amount of people without public transport. People without cars now face becoming disconnected from their homes and their jobs."

Oxfordshire County Council has recently launched a bookable minibus service available from 10.15am to 2.30pm to support those without access to public transport links.

Mr Jaeger said: "That is the good news, but the service is very limited. It is only available at off-peak times so will only benefit the elderly and out of work.

"Ten minibuses with the best booking system in the world would be worked off their wheels to cover the area."

So far, only two Oxfordshire town councils, Witney and Henley have pledged to subsidise their bus routes in order to keep them running, both having set aside £10,000 to support them for the immediate future.

Mr Jaeger added: 'Bus usage in Oxfordshire was higher than in any rural county in England, so for the county council to shove that in reverse is very regrettable."

A statement from the county council said: "It is important to remember that more than 90 per cent of Oxfordshire's bus network is commercially operated, which means the decision in February to end funding for subsidised services does not affect the overwhelming majority of routes."

It continued, "We do however recognise the impact on those people who may not have suitable access to public transport, and have launched a new bookable transport service the Oxfordshire Comet – which utilises the council's minibus fleet when they are not in use, to the benefit of residents and communities."

• The council's Comet service will help replace some lost services

Pedestrian is killed and two others injured in M40 crash

A 45-YEAR-OLD man from Southampton was arrested on suspicion of dangerous driving after a man died in a collision on the M40 near Bicester yesterday.

One man died and two other men were injured when a lorry collided with three pedestrians at 4.17am.

Police were called to the southbound slip road of the M40's Junction 9, where a 27-year-old man was pronounced dead at the scene.

The three men had got out of a car, driven by a fourth man, stopped on the slip road. The two injured men were taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, along with the car's driver who suffered shock.

Two of them were discharged, while one remains in hospital with serious head injuries. The slip road was shut until about 10am.

Det Con Ian Bailey, of Thames Valley Police's Serious Collision Investigation Unit, said: "I would like to speak to anyone who may have witnessed this collision, in which a man has tragically died. Anyone who has any information about it should call the 24-hour non emergency number on 101."

Views sought on proposal for 600 homes

CAN Thame cope with an extra 600 homes? That is the question being asked at a meeting next week.

South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) has launched a consultation about options for its Local Plan 2032.

It earmarks the town for the 600 houses 1,500 square metres of food retail space, and 2.5 hectares of employment land and a reservoir nearby on top of development included in Thame Neighbourhood Plan.

Thame Town Council is hosting a public meeting at St Mary's Church on Thursday August 4, at 7.30pm to gauge public opinion. Changes would need a new Thame Neighbourhood Plan adopted by mid-2018.

Thame Town Council said: "Even if the defined additional needs are real, there are more appropriate (and sustainable) places for their delivery in South Oxfordshire. But the town council is prepared to be persuaded otherwise."

SODC's consultation closes on Friday, August 19, at 4.30pm.

Vale of Aylesbury is also consulting on its Local Plan which includes 5,500 homes in and near Haddenham until Monday September 5.

Tesco refusal sparks campaign backlash

By Katriona Ormiston

A DECISION blocking plans to build a Tesco superstore on the outskirts of Thame has been made to protect town shops rather than benefit residents, campaigners have claimed.

A planning application to demolish an industrial building at Kingsmead Business Park and build the store, a petrol station and a car park was thrown out unanimously by members of South Oxfordshire District Council's planning committee on July 13.

But the controversial proposal had a mixed response from residents with 683 writing in support of a Tesco for Thame, while 513 others opposed it.

As some argued Tesco would damage Thame town centre, others said residents needed somewhere other than Waitrose to do their big shop without having to travel to Wheatley, Aylesbury or High Wycombe.

The Thame Needs Tesco group, which was formed last year to back the plan, said councillors were not considering the bigger all-round picture.

The group said: "In our view the decision made was not looking to the long-term future of its town and its actual residents but more the kudos of its shopkeepers."

It added: "How many members [of the committee] actually know Thame and can appreciate the full daily shopping needs of its residents – knowing Thame as a place to actually live, not just as a pretty and vibrant town to visit and have a coffee?"

Thame Needs Tesco secretary Rachel Lester said she travels to Aylesbury to do her main food shop.

She added: "I think it was a very blinkered decision. People have daily needs and young families who just cannot afford to do a weekly shop in the town.

"The overall impression I get though was that the decision was a foregone conclusion."

However a paper petition had 1,858 signatures against the proposal and an online petition had 568 opposing it.

Thame Town Council also opposed the planning application, and an independent report commissioned by them estimated Tesco would divert £11.2 million from the town centre.

The committee refused the application, saying the plans did not include necessary infrastructure, and the site was employment land for industrial, distribution, business or storage use.

It added: "In this location the provision of a supermarket of the size proposed would divert trade from the town centre and would have an adverse impact on its viability and vitality.

"The proposal would therefore undermine the important economic and social role of the town centre and the 'town centre first' policy."

Capsule updated

BANBURY A time capsule found as part of a housing and church development has had its contents updated.

The capsule was buried in 1957, according to its contents of newspapers and magazines when the former Methodist Church on The Fairway was built.

The old church has been demolished as part of Cherwell District Council's Build! Programme to make way for 11 shared ownership properties and a new church.

Parishioners added items from contemporary life in Banbury and re-buried the capsule ready for future generations to find.

Market fun day

THAME The popular Thame Market Fun Day is being held on Tuesday August 16, in the Upper High Street car park.

Anyone interested in running a stall promoting their group or charity can apply by August 11 by contacting Chris Hurdman at chrshurdman@btinternet.com.

Mayor of Thame Linda Emery will be judging stalls to pick the best dressed.

Trio aiming high for Skye

By Dominic Thomas

A DAD and his two sons have set their sights high in aid of the Guardian's charity of the year Blue Skye Thinking.

Chris Wrede and Ethan, 17 and Seth, 15, flew to Tanzania on Wednesday to climb Kilimanjaro to raise money for the charity set up in aid of their cousin Skye Hall.

Skye, of Abingdon, died in 2014 at the age of five due to the side-effects of his cancer treatment for an aggressive brain tumour.

Chris, 52, who lives in Dorset with his family, said: "We wanted to raise money for Blue Skye Thinking as Skye is always still very much in our thoughts."

They will climb the mountain this week, despite Ethan having undergone a hip replacement just two years ago at the age of 15. Chris added: "Our climb is also a personal challenge for Ethan who spent almost a year in a wheelchair due to a slipped upper femoral epiphysis and subsequent operations to equal the length of his legs."

The Aim Skye High Appeal was set up to fund a new three-year post-doctoral research post at the Northern Institute for Cancer Research. The charity has already raised enough to fund one four-year post since it began.

Despite being the biggest cancer killer in children and young adults, less than one per cent of research funding is spent on brain tumours, with over 350 children diagnosed each year.

Skye's mum Sally Hall, founder of Blue Skye Thinking, said: "Chris and the boys are the first of who we hope are many people to want to raise money for our Skye High Appeal.

"If anyone else is inspired to host their own event or undertake a challenge just take a look at the fundraising pack on our website and get planning."

To support Chris, Ethan and Seth visit https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/Jackie-Woon1. To support the appeal visit http://campaign.justgiving.com/charity/blueskyethinking/aimskyehigh.

Plan for Hill End site is backed

PLANS to secure the long term future of Hill End outdoor education centre have been given the green light by Oxfordshire County Council.

Cabinet members approved a business case for the Far-Tooor-based facility to be run by a new charitable organisation, and for the council to continue working alongside site owners Oxford University to bring the project to fruition.

The council has also agreed to provide one-off start up and transition funding to put the new service model in place.

• Oxfordshire County Council's HQ County Hall

Both the university and the council want to ensure that Hill End continues to provide an excellent outdoor education service.

The Hill End site is owned by Oxford University and has been leased and managed by Oxfordshire County Council since 1974.

The council is currently responsible for investing in Hill End, making repairs to buildings, managing the land and running the outdoor education service there.

A consultation on the plans received 130 responses, with 89 per cent of people saying they agreed or strongly agreed with the idea of setting up a new charitable company taking on the centre.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for children, education and families Melinda Tilley said: "We know how highly Oxfordshire residents value the services provided by Hill End, and both the council and our partners at Oxford University are committed to ensuring schools and other visitor groups continue to benefit from all that the centre has to offer.

"Hill End has a proud history of providing life-enhancing outdoor activities for Oxfordshire's children, young people and also for the wider community."

Wanted man

OXFORD An E-fit image of a man wanted in connection with two distraction burglaries in Northway, Oxford, has been released by police.

At about 8.45pm on July 14, a man and a boy gained entry to an elderly woman's home in Foxwell Drive, saying there was an issue with her water.

At about 9.20pm the same day two men and a boy gained entry to an elderly man's home in Ambleside Drive by saying they needed to check his taps.

Searches were made at both homes, but nothing was taken. Contact police on 101.

Boy's operation

OXON A three year-old boy with a life threatening condition has undergone a successful operation at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford

Ethan Suglo, from Ghana, suffers from a serious condition called Exomphalos which allows some of his organs to be outside his abdomen.

Last year, his father Charles met British doctors David and Jacque Williams who helped raise £39,000 to fly Ethan to the UK for surgery

Support offered for psoriasis sufferers

By Dominic Thomas

WHILE many might be self conscious about revealing our bodies this summer, there are a certain group of people that will struggle more than most.

About 4,490 people in Oxfordshire who suffer with the life impacting condition psoriasis will face a familiar yearly challenge to cover up in the heat.

The condition is an autoimmune disease which causes inflammation, redness and scaliness of the skin, and is not contagious.

Nicola Guy 49, of Leafield, said: "I've just accepted that I've got it and I'm fine with it, but the response to psoriasis is what I can't be bothered with. Somebody once said to me at work 'That's disgusting' you should cover that up

"I never had a problem when I was small because I went to a very small primary school and on the first day the teacher just said 'This is Nicola, she's got psoriasis' and nobody ever said anything. But then when I was 13 at school I became quite embarrassed when people kept saying things to me and I just used to wear these massive leg warmers."

Her sister Clare Williams 46 also had psoriasis as a child and later developed vitiligo a condition in which the skin loses its pigment.

She said, "I think if people understood it more you'd get less of the strange looks from people.

"The worst thing I've had is a child who said 'I've got nice hands not like yours' It just made me think that maybe that's what everyone is thinking and it was really hurtful."

John Warne founder of the Psoriasis Help Organisation, which supports sufferers said "Luckily I've always had this attitude of making light of it.

"But it's quite hurtful when people would say things when it would be visible even though if you saw me it was a big tough skinhead."

Mr Warne has also been campaigning for better education of GPs on skin conditions, which account for almost 25 per cent of GP visits, but dermatology accounts for just a week of medical students' entire training.

Dr Keith Freeman, who has just retired from 32 years as a dermatologist said: "In terms of the emotional impact, about a third of patients are depressed or develop anxiety disorders, and a third have difficulty in forming relationships, and about 70 per cent have a painful itch which interferes with sleep."

He said his main message would be for sufferers not to give up adding "We can't cure it but we can control it. There is a range of treatment available."

This week, pharmaceutical company LEO has launched a new foam spray called Enstilar to treat the condition.

Recycling rate in Oxford hits all-time high

PEOPLE in Oxford are recycling more than they have ever done before, according to latest figures.

The latest figures for the year up to March 31, 2016, confirm that recycling rates for the city have reached 49.9 per cent, an increase on last year's figure of 49.3 per cent.

It means:

- 1,170 fewer tonnes of rubbish than last year for the council to collect
- 12.9 more bin lorry-loads of recycling collected
- 130 tonnes more compost produced than last year
- The amount of carbon saved by recycling food was the equivalent of taking 600 cars off the road

Cllr John Tanner, city council board member for a cleaner and greener Oxford, said: "Well done to Oxford residents for once again throwing away less and recycling more."

But the Green Party said the increase was not enough

Green councillor and shadow portfolio holder for the environment, Cllr Rathi Brandt, said: "These small changes – an increase in recycling rate of 0.65 per cent and reduction in landfill of 1.2 per cent are to be welcomed, but Oxford's performance is still mediocre at best."

MONEY MATTERS

Current tax issues: Personal Tax Account

HM Revenue and Customs are continually moving closer to a digital age of 'real time information' and this is already the case for payrolls. Within the next few years the taxman would like everyone to use a personal tax account.

The end of the 31 January rush to get one's self-assessment return in on time may be coming to a welcome end but the digital provision of information is a concern for some taxpayers. A wealth of financial information may soon be automatically given to HMRC by a variety of people, such as letting agents and even online boot sales.

Banks and the Department of Work and Pensions already provide HMRC with such information.

The process has already begun and when individuals log on to file their 2015-16 tax returns they may well find some information already there, for example their employment income or state pension.

From 2017 HMRC intend to start making PAYE coding adjustments on a monthly basis using financial information provided by third parties. Where taxpayers receive 'one off' lump sum payments during the year they will be able to enter it online when it occurs and pay the tax due on it.

By 2020 HMRC expect that the vast majority of UK residents will no longer need to file tax returns. The project is a huge undertaking by HMRC and not without concerns over the accuracy of data and the risk that taxpayers may not bother to check anything provided by a third party.

Quarterly Reporting

In addition to keeping track of one's tax affairs online self-employed individuals and landlords may be required to file details of income on a more frequent basis. From 2018 taxpayers and companies earning more than £10,000 a year from non PAYE sources will need to provide HMRC with figures quarterly. The new system aims to make the process much easier than filing a tax return and seems like a move to more timely payments of tax. Some taxpayers who usually pay their tax in arrears may initially face larger bills, which in turn could result in cash flow issues.

Timetable

By June 2016 your digital tax account can be opened.

By December 2016 bank interest in excess of the personal savings allowance will be included in your PAYE code.

By June 2017 taxable income can be reported online and debts can be paid like a credit card.

By December 2017 automatic adjustments will be made to PAYE codes every month to avoid you over/underpaying tax via PAYE.

By June 2018 your bank interest will be shown in your digital tax account.

By December 2018 self-employed individuals and landlords will start updating HMRC online at least four times a year.

By 2019 capital gains tax will have to be paid within 30 days of selling a second home or rental property.

By 2020 all your tax affairs will be dealt with through your online account.

Taxpayers who normally use an accountant or tax professional to file their annual return should not be fooled into thinking they can suddenly dispense with such services. An advisor may prove invaluable in dealing with the challenges presented by the new digital system. They will be in a position to provide valuable assistance such as -

- already being familiar with internet filing and HMRC's systems,
- leaving the taxpayer free to concentrate on the other aspects of their business,
- advising on the most efficient ways of saving tax,
- providing expertise in liaising with HMRC on your behalf,

Good support will be invaluable throughout the process.

New Horizons in Hearing

The new hearing aid from Widex pushes the barriers of performance. WIDEX UNIQUE takes digital processing to a new level to capture more sound than any other hearing aid on the market and is now available at Keith Donaghy Hearingcare

Supreme sound quality in any environment.

Hearing soft sounds is particularly important for users but even more important is determining which are useful and which are not. UNIQUE is the only hearing aid that ensures important soft sounds are maintained and unwanted soft sounds are removed.

The powerful soft level noise reduction system reduces the soft sounds users do not want to hear while retaining the audibility of soft speech. And it determines the difference between speech and noise (particularly background noise) without any compromise in speech intelligibility or comfort.

The best wind noise reduction in the industry.

For users to truly enjoy being outdoors it is essential that they can hear clearly no matter the conditions. The wind noise attenuation system in UNIQUE provides users with documented improvement in hearing speech and environmental sounds in the presence of wind noise.

Full connectivity

All unique hearing aids are compatible with the DEX range of communication accessories that provide full connectivity to mobile phones, remote controls, TVs and more.

NEW HORIZONS IN HEARING

Keith Donaghy warns prospective customers to be careful about misleading and inaccurate special offers and to consider that "you get what you pay for". He said that Keith Donaghy Hearing care is an independent company and can offer completely impartial advice and an aftercare service that is vital to make sure things run smoothly for the future of the client and their hearing aid system.

Ex-officer beats Potter author to crime book title

A FORMER Chipping Norton police officer's debut book has beaten JK Rowling's alter ego to win the top prize at one of the world's biggest crime writing festivals

I Let You Go, by Clare Mackintosh was named best crime novel at the Theakston Old Peculier Crime Writing Festival in Harrogate last Thursday

The mum of three said her children exclaimed "mummy's made it" when they discovered the Harry Potter author's pseudonym Robert Galbraith was among the shortlist.

Mrs Mackintosh, 39, worked for Thames Valley Police for 12 years, and said a hit and run which killed a child in Oxford while she was based at Cowley Police Station had triggered the idea for her story

She said, "It was inspired by that incident in Oxford, although it is not just about that.

"It gave me the catalyst to go into what makes someone drive away from the scene, what goes on in their head, and the reper cussions for everyone involved It raised questions that weren't really answered. And I remember thinking how could the mother of this child survive something like that?

"Years later, I lost my own son and realised then that you survive because you have to."

The book follows a woman who moves to an isolated part of Wales after her child is killed in a hit-and-run accident, and the detective who is investigating the case

Mrs Mackintosh was presented with a £3 000 prize and a hand-carved beer barrel trophy on the opening night of the world's largest celebration of crime writing.

Mrs Mackintosh said: "The whole thing was so unexpected, I didn't have a speech ready to deliver and I just burst into tears. That kind of ruined the sophisticated crime writer image."

Mrs Mackintosh took a career break to look after her children in 2011 and was about to go back to work before signing a book deal.

I Let You Go has now sold over half a million copies.

Climb raises £800-plus

A CHERWELL recycling officer has raised more than £800 for charity after climbing more than 1 000m up Mount Snowdoo with a wheelie bin of rubbish belted to his back.

Andrew Jenkins battled bad weather during the five hour round trip to the summit of England and Wales highest mountain on Saturday, July 16

The Cherwell District Council worker has raised £825 so far for WasteAid UK, a charity which helps set up practical low-cost waste services in developing countries

Mr Jenkins said, "I'm really proud to have helped raise so much money for a great charity

"Working in waste I understand the impacts bad management can have so it's great to raise money for a charity making a real difference in the developing world, even if I did have to carry a wheelie bin full of recycling up and down a mountain."

His challenge with a twist was part of a Walk for Waste fundraiser for the charity alongside other professionals

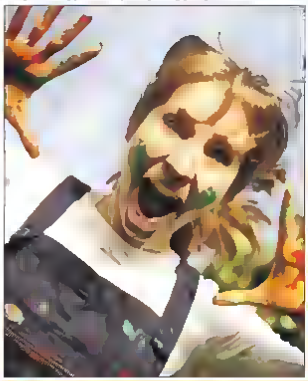
School's Out

School is out and Cornerstone is in!

Cornerstone has the school holidays covered with a huge range of workshops to keep youngsters busy

World Dance Day On Thursday 28 July is for all those aged 5 years plus who fancy trying their hand at different dance styles from around the globe. Styles include Bollywood, African jazz, Khatak, Hungarian folk and more. All abilities welcome as children are encouraged to work with others and learn fun combinations of movement from around the world.

On Tuesday 2 and Wednesday 3 August, those aged 6-12 years can enjoy Dance Explorers. This two session workshop is an opportunity for young people to create a new piece of dance together which will be shown to family and friends at the end of the second session.



Science Oxford and Cornerstone join forces for a variety of Creative Science Workshops between Wednesday 3 and Thursday 4 August. From crazy kitchen chemistry to making your own computer game, or a creative construction masterclass. There's loads to keep young minds busy. Budding actors can create a musical in a day on Friday 5 August. Learn the songs and the words to Annie and perform to friends and family at the end of the day.

On Saturday 6 August a skeletal steam locomotive will be outside Cornerstone for a contemporary and urban dance show at 11am and 2pm. After both performances there will be a free workshop for everyone aged 10 plus to learn the skills for yourselves.

For crafty 6-13 year olds, come and try your hand at creating elephants out of milk bottles on Tuesday 9 August at Recycled Art. Milk Bottle Elephants. There will be all manner of throwaway materials available such as colourful patterned paper and sequins to make your own unique creation.

On Thursday 11 August, dress for mess and get a feel for professional clay whilst making fun and quirky pots in Clay Sculpture Animal Pots. Your masterpieces will be professionally fired ready for collection at a later date.

Animation. Fantasy-Magic and Mayhem! is a hands-on, one-day animation workshop on Friday 12 August. Seven to 13 year olds will learn the tricks of the trade from stop frame to flipbooks iPad cartoons to Apps, ending with a magical mini animation.

For the littlest ones in the family, an outdoor experience awaits under-fives on Sunday 31 July in the show Little Artist. Big Painting dancers create a larger than life painting through a colourful mixture of dance, paint and music. There's a chance for little artists to create their own big painting with the dancers after the show.

For further information and to book call Cornerstone on 01235 515144 or go online to cornerstone-arts.org

Summer Fun with the Earth Trust

Looking for some inspiration to keep the kids busy this summer? Look no further! Here at the Earth Trust we've got a whole host of activities and events throughout July and August. Earth Trust is an environmental learning charity based in Little Wittenham (OX14 4QZ) our nature reserve is home to the iconic Wittenham Clumps, as well as a working farm, beautiful wildflower meadows and shady woodlands.

Our summer holiday Clumps Club for 7-11 year olds is running from 25th-29th July though it's filling up fast so be sure to get in touch asap if you would like to book. This year we're also trialing a Clumps Club for slightly older children (12-14yrs) on 4th and 5th August. On Thursday 4th we'll be learning all about Survival and Bushcraft, including shelter building, lighting a fire without matches and making bows and arrows! On Friday 5th we're giving youngsters the opportunity to Be a Wildlife Warden and help out with practical conservation tasks on the nature reserve. Both days are sure to be a lot of fun.

We also have two Wildlife Wednesdays during August, our roving Wildlife Wednesday visits a different Earth Trust community nature reserve each time and this summer you can find us at Mowbray Fields in Didcot on 3rd August and Wallingford Castle Meadows on 17th August. Come out and play and find out all about your local wildlife.

Older children (and adults!) may be interested in our Meteor Shower Walk on Friday 12th August. Following an informative talk and walk up the Wittenham Clumps we'll settle down to watch the annual Perseid meteor shower (weather permitting!). Due to the timing (9pm-11pm) younger children might have to give this one a miss.

We've got plenty of drop-in sessions coming up too including our regular Woodland Adventure for 5-8 year olds (10th and 24th August) and Discover & Play for the under 5s (22nd July and 12th August) as well as a pond dipping day for all on Sunday 7th August. There's no need to book for any of these sessions, just turn up and join in!

For full details including prices and how to book, please see www.earthtrust.org.uk/whatson

If you can't make it to any of our events why not pop by for a picnic or a walk up the Wittenham Clumps? There's lots to explore and a sunny summer's day is the perfect time. We hope to see you soon!

Swimming could be the Solution to Childhood Obesity Crisis

New research launched today suggests that Britain's children are becoming increasingly sedentary The survey found that a quarter of UK parents don t think their kids are doing enough exercise (26%) while 4 in 10 believe their children do less physical activities than they did at the same age

Four of the top five most popular summer holiday family activities were sedentary including cinema trips, visits to theme parks using computers or watching dvds or leaving the kids to entertain themselves. The one physical activity to buck the trend was swimming, with over half (53%) of British families stating they will be taking a trip to their local swimming pool this summer

The findings reflect the significant growth in swimming participation growth reported by swimming pools in Better Leisure Centres– up 38 per cent since 2012

Public leisure brand Better is now the biggest operator of swimming facilities within both the UK public and private sectors directly managing 112 facilities with pools.

Attracting 16 million visits per year in 2015 and over 100 000 people taking swimming lessons each week on its Better swim school, the popularity of swimming is returning with these figures representing a 12% like for like increase on the previous year

The facilities range from The London Aquatics Centre to Leisure Pools and Outdoor lidos, providing activites like Extreme Aquasplash —a Total Wipeout style inflatable assault course– to family swimming sessions inspired by Finding Dory there is something for all ages and abilities.

There has also been an increase in the amount of people interested in acquiring a new skill this summer with intensive swimming lessons and the Tom Daley Diving Academy providing the opportunity to learn, have fun and be inspired.

Phil Lane, Head of Sports and Participation for Better said,

"As a nation, we've got to acknowledge we have a problem with low levels of physical activity— but part of the solution lies on our doorsteps.

"At Better Leisure Centres we're banishing boredom with affordable and fun options for parents and kids that can help them stay entertained, fit and healthy over the summer holidays."

With the Olympic Games about to start it's hoped that the success of Team GB and watching elite athletes in action will inspire a generation of children to embrace sport. In fact, 36% of parents believe the Games will encourage their children to take up more exercise this summer with Jessica Ennis-Hill cited as Britain's most inspiring athlete.

And it's not just swimming that's on offer- youngsters can also choose from supervised taster sessions for tennis, athletics, gymnastics and much more across the holidays- freeing up parents to do other things.

GLL is committed to getting more people more active this summer– kids using their local Better Leisure Centres this summer benefit from a 30% discount and free membership card – helping them emulate their heroes of track and pool.

To take advantage of this offer parents or guardians must sign their child up for a free Better Activities for Kids Card at any Better leisure centre or online at: www better org.uk/summer

Better are also linking up with I am Team GB to create the nation's biggest sports day on August 27th to help welcome back a successful Team GB by taking part is rome and try sports sessions. www.iamteamgb.com for further info.

Compton Verney

Compton Verney
ART GALLERY & PARK

What is Compton Verney?

Seen across the lake are majestic grounds created by Lancelot 'Capability' Brown, the 18th Century Robert Adam-designed Compton Verney could be the quintessential English country house.

But this once refined seat of nobility is anything but Warwickshire's answer to Downton Abbey, today Compton Verney is a vibrant and historically important art gallery and park.

In the late 1700s Compton Verney was transformed into the magnificent Georgian mansion by Britain's most gifted innovators: the architect Robert Adam, and the celebrated landscape designer Lancelot 'Capability' Brown

In 1993, Compton Verney was bought by Sir Peter Moores who painstakingly restored Compton Verney while putting together a collection artworks including ancient Chinese bronzes, Tudor portraits and 18th-century Neapolitan landscapes

Today Compton Verney is home to one of Britain's most important and culturally forward thinking art galleries. Brown's landscape is also being sensitively restored and reinterpreted, making it a haven for nature lovers, an outdoor art space and huge adventure playground for children – and the location for some fantastic exhibitions and events.

Running until 2 October is one of 2016's most feel-good exhibitions, Britain in the Fifties: Design and Aspiration, which will take you on a fascinating journey down memory lane. See how design shaped and influenced people's lives whilst embodying their aspirations for the future. Although the country was still recovering from the seismic shock of the Second World War, there was a general mood of optimism, as austerity gave way to increasing affluence and burgeoning consumerism. This carried on through much of the decade, prompting Harold Macmillan's famous quote: "Go around the country, go to the industrial towns, go to the farms and you will see a state of prosperity such as we have never had in my lifetime – most of our people have never had it so good."

In the years which followed the ground breaking Festival of Britain of 1951, design played a crucial role in shaping and redefining the Brave New World of a modern, sing and increasingly prosperous Britain. Britain in the Fifties traces the design journey of a national young British couple and conjures the social and cultural landscape of this fascinating time.

Dog Show with a difference at Compton Verney

There's the perfect day out for all the family – those with two legs and four — on 21 August as the award winning, national art gallery Compton Verney hosts its first ever dog show.

Explore the Grade I-listed Georgian mansion and 120 acres of Grade II-listed Lancelot 'Capability' Brown parkland, maybe see the critically acclaimed Britain in the Fifties: Design and Aspiration exhibition, before grabbing some BonBQ, a Pimms or beer and cheering on your canine companion in fun events such as Dog with the Waggiest Tail, Best Dressed Dog, Fastest Sausage Eater, Loveliest Lady and Most Handsome Dog

There will also be great displays to be enjoyed including Pacesetters German Shepherd Dog Display Team, a Gun Dog Display and the hugely popular Duck Herding!

STEP BACK IN TIME TO CELEBRATE THE 1950'S WITH ALL THINGS VINTAGE!

Immerse yourself in this fabulous era among the stalls, dancing, style, vintage cars, music and more!

Wander through Ruby's Vintage & Retro Fair where there will be 50s clothes and home-ware on sale

See and take part in dancing demonstrations, enjoy live music by the band Showtunes, explore the vintage cars and vans from the British Motor Museum, meet the ladies from WI for sewing demos and get a 50s makeover at the vintage pop-up hairdresser complete with 1950s make-up!

Full steam ahead for Didcot Railway Centre

Now recognised as being one of the leading centres of its type, Didcot Railway Centre first opened as a visitor attraction in 1967.

The Railway Centre recreates the golden age of the Great Western Railway with a fine collection of over 20 steam locomotives many housed in the original engine shed, and a collection of passenger coaches and freight wagons.

The centre now offers a wide range of features for visitors to enjoy as they wander around the site including the original main building of the 1932 Engine Shed.

Amongst the most popular events are the centre's Steamdays which provide visitors with a chance to ride in coaches pulled by a restored locomotive.

Summer steamdays, when there will one or more locomotives in steam for visitors to travel behind, are on all weekends through to 4 September, all Wednesdays from 27 July to 31 August, and Monday 29 August.

For full details, contact Didcot Railway Centre on 01235 817200, or visit the website at www.didcotrailwaycentre.org.uk

Win tickets (and more) to Storms, War and Shipwrecks at the Ashmolean!

Dive into the past and discover the extraordinary story of Sicily, the island at the crossroads of the Mediterranean, through spectacular finds rescued from the sea by underwater archaeologists.

For 2500 years, Sicily was the place where the great powers of the ancient and medieval world met and fought.

Phoenicians, Greeks, Romans, Byzantines Arabs and Normans battled for control, with many of their ships sinking off the island s rocky shores Sicily s azure waters have since become a focus for underwater exploration and dozens of shipwrecks have been recovered.

Immerse yourself in the world of the underwater archaeologist and explore the multicultural history of Sicily revealed through stunning and unusual artefacts brought up from the depths of the sea.

Win tickets

The exhibition runs until 25th September and we have 4 tickets to give away with kids under 12 getting in free Winners will also receive goodies from the shop including a lovely orange stuffed Octopus toy an exhibition book and an exhibition mug.

WIN Breakfast at Tiffany's tickets for the Theatre Royal Haymarket

BREAKFAST at Tiffany's, the classic tale of Bally Golightly written by Truman Capote and so memorably portrayed by Audrey Hepburn in the iconic 1961 film, is being given a new lease of life as a stage play with a use in a sparkling, sophisticated production starring the multi award-winning Pixie Lott as Holly.

Adapted by Pulitzer Prize finalist and Tony and Olivier Award-winning playwright Richard Greenberg and directed by Nikolai Foster, this tale of vivacious, good-time girl Holly Golightly and her fantastical existence in 1940s New York City is told through the eyes of a young writer named Fred, played by Matt Barber (Downton Abbey) who is completely fascinated by this exquisite extrovert who every woman wants to be and every man wants to be with.

With memorable songs from the era, this stylish production is set to capture the hearts of audiences and sparkle like a diamond in a Tiffany's window.

Following a tour of the UK and Ireland since March, Breakfast at Tiffany's will have a 12 week run at the Theatre Royal Haymarket.

Upgrading the railway near Banbury, Oxford and Didcot

30 July – 14 August 2016

We're carrying out major improvement work as part of our Railway Upgrade Plan between Leamington Spa, Banbury, Bicester North, Oxford and Didcot Parkway this summer, and lines will be closed for 16 days.

This will affect train services operated by Great Western Railway, CrossCountry and Chiltern Railways.

The train companies have worked hard to provide alternative journey solutions, so if you're planning to travel during this time please check your journey carefully at nationalrail.co.uk

WIN over £200 of goodies with Fopp!

THURSDAY 28th July will see the opening of a new Fopp store in Oxford, the store being located at 96-97 Gloucester Green, Oxford.

As a vibrant music and student city, Oxford is the perfect match for Fopp. Eight years after closing, Fopp is returning to Oxford to provide the very best in music, film and books at low prices. Oxford shoppers will find a wide range of vinyl, CDs, Blu-ray, DVDs, books and turntables as well as an extensive collection of music and film related T-shirts and merchandise.

Fopp began as a one-man stall in Glasgow, Scotland in 1981, selling affordable merchandise. Throughout the years Fopp has evolved and now with the addition of Fopp Oxford, it boasts nine stores throughout the UK and is considered the second largest specialist music retailer in terms of store numbers.

Oxford Fopp store manager James Eveleigh confirmed there would be live music performances in the new store which is sure to draw mass appeal from the residents of Oxford. The first of which will be from English based quartet Moose Blood who will be performing songs from their new album on Monday 8th August from 12.30pm.

James added "We would like to thank our many loyal customers in Oxford for their continued enthusiasm and support for the re-opening of their store. We look forward to once again providing the people of Oxford with the very best in film and music and look forward to welcoming Oxford entertainment shoppers to the brand new Fopp store this month."

As part of the opening celebration Fopp are supplying one lucky Oxfordshire Guardian reader with a pack of goodies worth over £200 that is a mixture of: classic albums on vinyl, classic British/American cinema, classic world cinema, music books and music posters.

To be in with a chance of winning all you have to do is answer this simple question.

Closing date: Friday, August 12.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Steeleye play Cropredy

THIS year's Cropredy Festival is expected to be a good one.

From Thursday, August 11, to Saturday, August 13, the numerous acts taking to the stage at the site near Banbury include big names such as Madness, Ralph McTell and Coco and the Butterfields.

As well as Fairport Convention, who run the festival, headlining this year's event, one of folk's most popular names in Steeleye Span, pictured, will also be performing.

See inside for more.

Comedy club returns

EXPECT to leave the Burton Taylor Studio in Oxford with sore sides when the annual BT Comedy Club returns.

By James Richings

The two-day event on Friday, July 29, and Saturday July 30 will see a number of funny men and women share their gags, stories, and witty one-liners.

And for Daniel Gilbert, the Oxford Playhouse's assistant marketing manager who will be compering the event as well as performing his own material over the two days said the chance to perform was something too good to turn down.

"While there's always been plenty of comedy in Oxford, a lot of it tends to be by and for the student community but in the last few years, there's been a real growth in comedy popping up in lots of places," he revealed to the Guardian

"So it's really great to able to showcase some of that talent such as Oxfordshire-based Conor McReynolds and Terry Green, as well as bringing acts in from the London circuit, such as Kate Smurthwaite."

As an ex-theatre maker for a number of years Daniel would write and perform in numerous shows which would give him a huge buzz

However, despite the adrenaline rush of performing on stage whilst writing new material, Daniel soon discovered that the productions were sometimes too costly and also caused a lot of people to reschedule their plans.

So he decided to compromise and enter the route of stand-up comedy an area of the entertainment industry he greatly admires

"I've been performing around Oxfordshire for a couple of years now but this is the first time I'll be performing at the BT Studio, so I'm really looking forward to it" Daniel said. "It's a very intimate space, and so a great place to share laughs with people"

He added: "Usually my stuff is quite deadpan, but I'm compering these nights, which is a very different skill and fits different types of material.

"The key is being very high energy engaging the audience and bringing them with you, so they're nicely warmed up for the acts"

On Friday, Kate Smurthwaite, Becky Moore and Conor McReynolds will perform with Mog Taylor Terry Green and Fran Day performing on Saturday

Both shows will start at 7.30pm and tickets cost £10 or £8 for concessions

Legendary band set to perform

SINCE 1976, the Cropredy Convention festival has became one of the most popular events in Oxfordshire.

Held at Cropredy, near Banbury, the music festival has seen hundreds of mainstream, local folk, country and light rock musicians and bands such as Richard Digance, Levellers and Midge Ure all take to the stage.

And with the festival returning from Thursday August 11 to Saturday, August 13 folk rock band Steeleye Span hope they can roll back the years with their set on Friday August 12, with this being the group's first appearance at the Oxfordshire festival since 2006.

And with the band still going strong almost 56 years after they started, guitarist Julian Littman believes the rush of performing to an audience with his friends will never fade.

The band is on a UK tour which started in June and will end in October.

"Prior to joining the group, I worked as an as actor in theatre, movies and in TV," Julian said.

"Whilst musically I've worked with Gerry Rafferty, Dexy's Midnight Runners, Charlie Dore and countless others so I'm very privileged to be part of Steeleye.

"It's also a pleasure to work with Maddy Prior. She always enables and prepares to push the boundaries."

By James Richings

First formed in 1967 by bass player Ashley Hutchings, original band members included Tim Hart on guitar and vocals, Prior on vocals, Terry Woods on guitar, concertina and vocals, with his wife Gay Woods on strings and vocals.

They became a household name during the 1970s with their traditional folk-rock sound, which helped the band achieve seven albums breaking into the UK Top 50 Album Charts.

However, after a lean period in the late 1970s which saw the popular group split up, the band soon reunited and have since been a dominant force in the folk industry.

They are now considered to be one of the best-known acts as part of the British folk revival.

"The idea is to comfort surprise and even shock," Julian revealed.

"The thing with Steeleye Span is that we don't stand still and that we are always trying to push things.

"And as much as we love recording, it's now all about the live gigs.

"The musical landscape has changed for all bands and it's now not all about selling albums, it's playing live that counts."

Shan's mission is to make us Smile with her music

FOLLOWING her stellar performance at Bicester Village at the start of July, singer-songwriter Shan Smile is returning to the outlet shopping centre on Thursday August 4.

By James Richings

The entertainer is coming back to Oxfordshire to perform tunes from her debut album and EP accompanied by pianist Nick Gilmore.

And despite not yet being a household name, Shan is optimistic that her future is bright and hopes her acoustic set at Bicester Village will encourage audience members to check out her self-penned tracks.

Shan will also perform a number of covers from the pop, soul, reggae and folk genre.

"There are a lot of exciting times ahead," Shan said. "The inspirations behind my songs are a mixture between life experiences and my imagination and I think the imagination part makes it even more interesting.

"And one of the best things about performing to an audience is that it reminds you that you're on the right path and the reason you do what you do is to bless others with your gift.

"It's definitely a grateful feeling and it is very rewarding, as there is a lot of preparation and practice that goes into each of my performances."

From a young age, Shan has been surrounded by music.

Shan's father had a huge interest in the pastime, which saw her witness her dad play a number of different instruments and frequently jam with his friends.

This prompted the aspiring musician to take up music as a hobby which ultimately became her job.

After years of studying the subject at the BRIT School for Performing Arts and Technology while also attending Middlesex University to do a course in music business and management, Shan insists that becoming a success in the music industry was down to good fortune, but about grafting to get to your award.

"The hardest challenge of my career is making that decision within myself to become an artist, as a singer is someone who wants to pursue her dreams and make it despite life's challenges," she said.

"You have to have a lot of belief in yourself in stand this industry."

She added: "Working on my current EP project is taking a lot of hard work and I have to tell myself everyday that I can do it as it is very challenging."

Her Bicester Village gig is free, starting at 4pm and lasting for about four hours.

Behind the wheel of the powerful Jeep Cherokee 2.2 Multijet 200hp 4WD Auto Limited

Top rate engine but lacks soul

POWER AND EFFICIENCY:

The Cherokee is fitted with the new 2.2 MultiJet II engine that delivers 200 hp at 3500rpm and has a torque rating of 440 Nm at 2500rpm – making it one of their best engines to date.

Top speed comes in around 127mph and it can accelerate from zero to 62mph in around 8.5 seconds. Average combined fuel consumption figure comes in at a decent 49.6mpg with CO2 emissions of 150g/km.

OFF ROAD:

I will steer away from my normal on road review and talk a little bit about how the Cherokee fared off the tarmac. Actually – it did rather well. It will never beat a Range Rover – but it was pretty good. I have to say Jeep's Active Drive four-wheel-drive system is very good and did not really struggle in most places off road and I never once got stuck – which is great news.

INTERIOR & TECHNOLOGY

Inside the Jeep looks ok, but I just don't get the sense of feeling cocooned. Yes it is nicely set out – but it just doesn't make me think 'Wow!'

By Anthony Yates

Don't get me wrong – the seating and materials used inside are of a good quality and I would be very happy if I had bought one but I just feel the Cherokee is missing that little bit of 'soul' – the feeling is a bit like thinking you are going on a date with Salma Hayek and when you arrive you find out that actually you have been misinformed and your new host will be the one and only Dot Cotton.

Some of the standard equipment on the Cherokee Limited includes; keyless entry rain sensitive wipers, automatic HID Bi-Xenon headlights, cruise control, next generation front airbags, dual zone climate control, leather interior, nine speakers with subwoofer (Alpine) Uconnect 8.4" DAB Radio with integrated Bluetooth with USB.

SAFETY

The Cherokee also has a five-star Euro NCAP safety rating which makes it class leading among the mid-size SUV market. My test car was also fitted with the option of the 'Technology Group' pack. This pack includes advanced brake assist, lane departure warning plus, full speed forward collision warning plus adaptive cruise control, as well as mirror with blind-spot monitoring function, and a rear parallel parking assist system.

TO SUM UP:

The Cherokee is a decent 4X4 with the attraction of its high specification levels and a decent ride that is quiet and refined – I just wish Jeep could give the Cherokee a little bit more 'soul'.

Thompson & Terry RECRUITMENT

Position: Apprentice Recruitment Resourcer
Location: Abingdon (OX14)
Salary: £Competitive
Sector: Sales, Administration, Customer Service, Recruitment

Opportunity

An opportunity has arisen internally with Thompson & Terry Recruitment for an apprentice to join our quirky office in Central Abingdon. We are on the lookout for the next 'leg thing' in the recruitment profession; somebody with the drive, hunger and raw talent to join our ranks. Upon entering our office you will need a warm smile, drive and a genuine interest in sales and administration. This must be matched by a hunger to forge a long and prosperous career within the recruitment sector.

Located in a Grade 2 Listed Victorian office, upon entering you will be greeted by a sea of smiles! We actively promote hard work ahe we fully encourage reward and celebrate individual and team successes. Previous apprentices have enjoyed regular incentives including corporate hospitality at Oxford United fixtures, regular team outings to Oxfordshire restaurants and team bonding sessions at 'Bounce' in Milton Keynes. Past recruits have been recognised in local radio and in print media including appearances in the Oxfordshire Guardian, Oxford Mail, B4 magazine, InBusiness magazine and the Herald.

We are all about combing fun and success! Our unlisting team structure is a light unit who combine a strong work ethic alongside office humour whilst showcasing ambition and encouraging internal progression at every opportunity. We seek to break the shackles of the typical recruitment day to day: our guys are easy going, able to forge close working relationships and support colleague development. Whilst we recognise there will be the occasional office lulls there is always somebody on hand with office treats (cakes!) to liven up the workplace.

The recruitment industry offers an eclectic mix of candidates, clients, fight ing fires and more highs than lows. You will be expected to attend regular networking events, represent Thompson & Turry Recruitment at careers events across local schools and colleges, respond to applications, source candidates, appear in promotional material and manage administrative tasks. Coming your office duties alongside a recruitment or administrative focused qualification, this invaluable experience that you will receive from our award winning young entrepreneurs is not to be missed.

If this sounds like something for you, don't forget to wear your smile (even on a bad day!)

To apply please send a copy of your CV and covering letter to jobs@thompsonandterry.co.uk

Closing date: Friday 29th July 2016

Spin costs Palmer the chance of scoring first points in Hungary

By Adam Flinn

JOLYON Palmer admitted he was "gutted" after a mid-race spin cost him what was looking like his first points in Formula One at Sunday's Hungarian Grand Prix.

The Renault driver had just moved up to 10th place following Daniil Kvyat's pitstop and looked on course to secure at least one point for his efforts.

However on lap 47 he lost control of the rear of the car at turn four, pitching him into a spin and dropping him back to 13th, which became 12th after Esteban Gutierrez received a post race penalty.

"I'm gutted as my first points in Formula One were there for the taking," said Palmer.

"It turned in the same as normal at turn four – I wasn't hanging everything out and I was looking after the tyres– but for some reason I lost the car on a massive snap.

"It was the best drive of my career and just one small spin took away those points."

His team-mate Kevin Magnussen struggled to make up ground after a poor start and brought his Renault home 15th.

Meanwhile, fellow Oxfordshire team Williams endured a disappointing race, picking up just two points for their afternoon's work as Valtteri Bottas finished ninth.

The Finn gained a position on the opening lap by overtaking Nico Hulkenberg, but aside from the pitstops remained there for the entire race.

And it was an even worse for Felipe Massa, who had to cope with faulty steering for all of the 70 laps caused by a heavy shunt in qualifying the day before.

He ended up a lowly 13th after having to cope with a steering wheel heavy on one side and light on the other.

Rob Smedley, Williams' head of performance engineering, said: "I think we achieved the maximum we could with Valtteri, he drove a solid race but the pace of the car is just not there.

"After Felipe's accident on Saturday] the car was out of balance and he just couldn't get into a rhythm.

"These are tough times for the team. We have to knuckle down, be introspective, work as a team and start to understand how we're going to get more performance from the car."

And there were no points for either of the Banbury-based teams at Hungary as Haas and Manor finished well down.

Gutierrez was the closest as he ended 13th, following a five second penalty for ignoring blue flags while being lapped by race winner Lewis Hamilton.

The blocking caused second-placed Nico Rosberg to close in on Hamilton, prompting the reigning world champion to give Gutierrez the middle finger when he eventually got past the Mexican.

Romain Grosjean was one place behind his team-mate in 14th, having had issues with the car's balance during the race.

And the two Manors of Pascal Wehrlein and Rio Haryanto trailed home in 19th and 21st positions respectively.

No hurry to announce 2017 drivers

RENAULT are in no rush to confirm their driver line-up for 2017, team principal Fred Vasseur has said ahead of this weekend's German Grand Prix.

The driver market is in full swing as the teams continue their ongoing preparations for next year, with Ferrari and Mercedes having announced unchanged pairings in recent weeks.

But Vasseur would not be drawn into discussions about whether Kevin Magnussen and Jolyon Palmer will keep their seats with the Enstone-based squad in 2017.

He said: "We are at that time of year when we are asked these questions but the questions and the speculation often happen before any decision is made.

"What I can say is we have two good drivers who are improving weekend after weekend.

"They are both doing a strong, solid job and work very well within the team and we will make our decisions for 2017 in our own time."

At present Magnussen is expected to retain his seat, with speculation that Palmer may be replaced by the team's reserve driver Esteban Ocon.

Lynn insists 'things are on the up'

OXFORD-based GP2 driver Alex Lynn said his DAMS team has "made a lot of progress" despite suffering a miserable two races in Hungary at the weekend.

A disappointing 12th place in the feature race after a poor qualifying session left him well down the order was followed by a lap one crash in the sprint event, after he got caught up in a series of collisions when Arthur Pic spun at turn two.

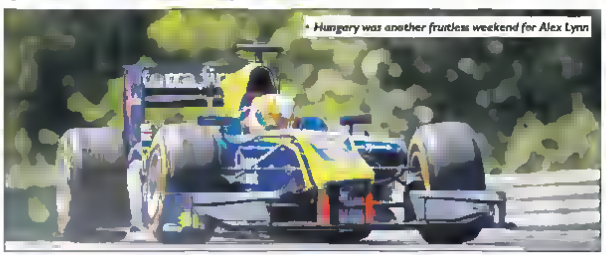
It was Lynn's second non-points scoring weekend in a row, and he has dropped down to 11th in the standings as a result.

But despite the problems Lynn is optimistic that DAMS is on the up and the results will start an improving soon.

He said: "Things have gone badly for me and the DAMS team in recent rounds but the main thing for me in Hungary is that we really seem to have turned a corner.

"By the end of first practice my car was almost completely different to how we'd started the session and our pace improved very quickly.

"Hopefully our bad luck is out of the way now and we can kick on at Hockenheim [this weekend]."



• Hungary was another fruitless weekend for Alex Lynn

Oxford mauled by Bears in League One Shield fixture

IT was a bad day at the office for Oxford RL after being mauled 48-6 by Coventry Bears in the first round of the League One Shield.

On a scorching hot day at Butts Park Arena in Coventry the Blues surrendered to their fifth consecutive defeat.

The game began with the Bears setting the pace of the match, but it wasn't until 10 minutes in that full back Charlie O'Mara was able to inflict Coventry's first blow to their visitors.

O'Mara scorched through the line untouched before Joel James kicked the conversion.

Oxford fought back but never really troubled the Bears' line and the hosts were 12-0 to the good on 15 minutes.

The Bears kept building pressure and after some aggressive and quick forward play Eddie Medforth flew onto the end of a pass to make it 16-0.

Oxford fought well and were back in the game on 32 minutes when a Luke Gardiner break from his own half set up Casey Canterbury to go under the posts.

Scott Fleming added the conversion leaving the score at 16-6 at half-time.

But Coventry asserted their quality in the second half with tries from Matt Reid, Alex Beddows and Jack Morrison extending their lead to 40-6.

And Medforth completed his hat-trick when he touched down twice more to bring the score to 48-6.

U's Women slide to triple loss despite digging deep

By Dominic Thomas

OXFORD United slipped to a third successive FA Women's Super League 2 defeat after going down 1-0 at home to Everton.

Despite a vastly improved performance over recent displays against London Bees and Watford, the end result was the same as Emily Hollinshead's scrappy goal gave the visitors victory.

Les Taylor's side faced an uphill struggle from the start, with the combination of illness and unavailability leaving the manager with a depleted squad to choose from.

Both sides started brightly, with the opening stages of the match played at a furious tempo.

Goalkeeper Demi Lambourne was kept busy by Everton's dangerous strike force, but she proved equal to the task, tipping wide Rosella Ayane's ambitious 25-yard strike after nine minutes.

At the other end, United had opportunities to get in behind the Everton defence but were unable to capitalise.

Ini Umotong played in Ella Franklin-Fraiture with a gorgeous ball over the top, but the U's midfielder was denied by the offside flag before she could lob the onrushing goalkeeper.

Umotong herself got the wrong side of the visitors' defence as she raced onto a long ball forward, only to be hauled down on the edge of the box.

The resulting free-kick from Ellie Noble was just inches over the bar.

As the first half wore on the visitors began to take control, but found themselves frustrated.

Chloe Kelly missed the target twice in quick succession from close range before Lambourne denied both Claudia Walker's well-struck shot in the 34th minute and Krystle Johnson's strike just a moment later.

The second half couldn't match the intensity of the first.

United looked at their most dangerous when on the break.

Umotong burst free before picking out Franklin-Fraiture with a superb ball, but the United winger's shot was tame and easily gathered by the goalkeeper.

Everton took the lead with just 13 minutes to play in scrappy fashion.

United failed to deal with a corner, allowing substitute Emily Hollinshead to scramble home at the back post.

The exhausted U's were unable to threaten an equaliser.

Oxford Half Marathon start line switched

ORGANISERS of the Vitality Oxford Half Marathon have announced the start for the 2016 event will move from St Giles to Broad Street.

They say the move aims to "further enhance its spectacular city start and finish, while still taking in the many historical sights of Oxford".

The 13.1 mile route will see competitors run from Broad Street and onto Magdalen Street, St Giles' Parks Road South Parks Road, Mansfield Road Jowett Walk, and St Cross Road.

They will then run almost the full length of Banbury Road, before turning around at Carlton Road, running back down Banbury Road and heading east down Marston Ferry Road.

The final mile in the city centre takes in Halywell Street, Catte Street and the iconic Radcliffe Square and Turl Street before runners enter Broad Street again for the home straight.

Peter McQuitty, Oxford City Council's head of culture said, "The city and county councils are working with organisers to make the Vitality Oxford Half Marathon a world class event that will be enjoyed equally by runners onlookers and local residents.

"With its iconic backdrop and flat route, there is no reason why the half marathon cannot be one of the best half marathons in the world."

Injury will not hold back Bicester javelin thrower

FEW get the opportunity to have an Olympic medallist in their corner, and javelin thrower Freddie Curtis is desperate to make the most of his golden chance.

After being contacted by Steve Backley on Twitter, Curtis has been receiving tips and advice from the fellow Brit who took silver medals in the Atlanta and Sydney Olympics.

Ranked second in Britain, Curtis' progress was put on hold when shoulder surgery ruled him out until at least 2017.

But despite being forced to watch on, the 21 year old from Hardwick, near Bicester believes Backley's influence has been instrumental so far.

Curtis said: "He's been there, done it all so I'm very lucky to be able to tap into that experience and hopefully I can make the most of it when I come back from injury."

A member of the SSE Next Generation programme of athletes handpicked by former Olympians Curtis benefits from financial support and advice from top athletes including on nutrition and media work from Paralympic sprinter Libby Clegg.

And the 21-year-old believes it is experiences like that which will stand him in good stead for the rest of his career.

He said: "It's great to be one of the lucky few athletes who get to be part of the scheme. They offer so much, not just financially but with other areas as well."

Championship side Brighton put the Yellows to flight

Oxford outclassed by Seagulls

By George Welch

OXFORD United were outclassed by Championship side Brighton and Hove Albion in their last home pre-season game on Tuesday night

Brighton's class showed from the start as they asserted dominance through neat passing play with Anthony Knockaert Tom Cadman and a Tomer Hemed brace proving the difference.

The tone of the game was set within the first 20 minutes as the East Sussex side created a flurry of chances

New signing Simon Eastwood kept out a Reram Kayal effort from distance an four minutes and he had barely caught his breath before he thwarted a powerful Sam Baldock drive who had found himself in space from a Glenn Murray backheel.

Just seconds later, Murray fired over from a Liam Rosenior cross on the right bytine before he missed a gilt edged chance from close range following more good work by Rosenior.

And Brighton duly took the lead on 18 minutes when Knockaert was picked out by Jiri Skalak on the left wing

The Frenchman turned the Oxford defence and slotted calmly beyond Eastwood into the bottom left corner

Chris Hughton s men should have doubled their advantage just six minutes later when Chey Dunkley brought down Baldock in the penalty area – but Murray fired wide from 12 yards.

Knockaert pounced on sloppy defending shortly after the restart to run through one-on-one only to meet Eastwood who was off his line instantly to deny the attackers' second of the night.

In typical pre-season fashion the match lulled in the second half with mass substitutions stifling the flow after the hour

But United were still made to pay for a lacklustre performance

Cadmen prodded home from close range on 67 minutes nine minutes before Brighton who finished third in the Championship last season, put the game beyond doubt when a pinpoint Jamie Murphy cross provided Tomer Hemed with the opportunity to thump home the visitors' third of the night.

The same combination added icing to the cake with almost a carbon copy of the third goal with five minutes remaining.

Head coach Michael Appleton said the only positive about the night was that "there weren't any points up for grabs"

Reece Bayliss bagged the winner

Back-to-back pre-season wins for Ardley United

ARDLEY United followed their 9-0 win over Buckingham Athletic last week with a more sedated 1-0 pre-season win at Hanworth Villa on Saturday

Reece Bayliss proved the match winner, scoring the solitary goal in a game of very few chances.

The visitors dominated the first half, but Hanworth did venture out a bit more after the restart. Yet neither Ardley keeper had a save to make in the 90 minutes

The Hellenic League Premier Division created chances but could not quite get the ball in the net, wasting chances in front of goal with the crossbar denying the visitors in the second period.

Just two minutes in on Adam Morris corner was headed just wide by Chris Jackson, and four minutes later a similar routine saw Joel Meade fire over the top

Ardley scored the only goal after 10 minutes when Bayliss slotted home a right wing cross from Mat Cruse.

A ball up to Troy Bryan saw him cushion the ball into the path of Elias Katsoiouch who struck first time and his effort curled into the keeper's gloves.

The home side had a sniff in the final minute of the first half when a through ball in behind the United defence was cut out by a well-timed tackle from Chris Jackson just before the striker had a chance to test the keeper

A few half chances came and went for Hanworth, but they could not break down a resolute Ardley defence and each opportunity that did come along were either blocked or sent over the top

Fans' bid to buy match day tickets for children in care

A CAMPAIGN by Oxford United fans to pay for Oxfordshire children in care to watch the team in action at the Kassam Stadium has passed the £5 000 mark.

'One of Our Own' is organised by OxVox and the Oxford United Community Trust to fund over 1 000 match day tickets for Oxfordshire children living in care

A total of £5,745 has been raised of a £6,220 target to reach by July 31 to secure places for 40 young people and 10 carers to be at every home game.

There are over 600 children in Oxfordshire looked after by the county council, with countless more made vulnerable by family upheaval or neglect.

Kemar Roofe's signed home shirt – a donation made by an OxVox member – is currently being sold for over £400 and there have been three bids of over £350 for framed JPT Final Shirts

Simon Bradbury of OxVox said. "We are so grateful to the amazing donations from the fanbase and wider community, which have enabled the Trust to nearly achieve its aim in being able to purchase season tickets for children in care or children on the edge care in Oxfordshire

"We should not underestimate the difference that we are all able to make. we will be bringing hope, aspiration and love to children who have not had the best start to life"

Negotiations continue as line-up not yet set, U's boss says

Places still open as season draws near

By Dominic Thomas

OXFORD United coach Michael Appleton says there are still places up for grabs in his starting side as the Us head into their last pre-season fixture

Speaking after a disappointing 4-0 loss to Brighton and Hove Albion on Tuesday night Appleton said there are still opportunities for players to impress him.

He said: "Last pre-season, losing at Woking was a kick up the backside for one or two players and it probably cost one or two of them their place in the side if I'm honest.

"At this point I would have preferred to be 100 per cent nailed down as to what I think my starting XI is. As it stands at the minute I probably know seven or eight

"So there's a little bit of work still to do and there's still an opportunity for some of the players that are in the building."

As the Guardian went to print Appleton said he was expecting two extra additions to the squad before the end of the week, including a loan signing. "We're in negotiations with two players and their representatives

"There was talk of getting it done before the game today [Tuesday night] Certainly tomorrow [Wednesday] we're expecting one to be done and hopefully by Thursday the second will be done."

He added. "It is frustrating but its part and parcel of the process.

"There will be managers up and down the country going into the season who still have two or three players missing from where they want to be

"I hope that's not the case for us and I don't think it will be, but the reality is that the window is open until August 31 and the season kicks off on the 6th."

Appleton also shared his views on the squad's pre-season form after the test against Brighton "It's been great. It's good for the players, it's almost an education for them We want to strive to be where they are."

Oxford complete their friendly fixtures with a clash against League Two Barnet on Saturday

"If we can pass the test [against Barnet] from a physical point of view on Saturday, I'd like to think that we'll be looking forward a little bit brighter" Appleton added.

The draw for the EFL Trophy the rebranded Johnstone's Paint competition was also made yesterday morning.

The reformatted competition will see Oxford face Exeter City Chelsea under 21s and local rivals Swindon Town in Southern Group C

Clearer hearing at the lowest prices

Want to hear natural sound? Our new CLEAR hearing aid family lets you hear as close to natural sound as possible

CLEAR hearing aids can communicate wirelessly with each other - just like two ears do. This means that all the functions in your hearing aids are adjusted instantly depending on your listening environment. Meaning that even when soft sounds change to louder sounds, you still hear with clarity.

CLEAR also meets the challenge of hearing from different directions. It is the only Widex hearing aid that lets you focus on sound in selected directions without turning your head - perfect if you're driving, for example.

And combined with a unique range of wireless accessories, some of the more difficult listening situations, such as watching television, listening to music or using your mobile phone, are made easier.

Ask us to demonstrate the new Widex Unique range allowing you to hear both soft and loud sounds in comfort. It detects your listening situation automatically and makes sure you hear the right sound at the right time in the right place. A unique hearing loss NEEDS a unique solution.

This may be all you need!
- Discreet design
- No hard to use buttons or dials
- Comfortable to wear and easy to use

The best just got smaller

The SoundLens 2 from Starkey offers a smaller, next generation design to offer an invisible solution to more patients than ever before. Tiny but powerful, these advanced instruments are loaded with the latest features and advanced technology giving clearer speech clarity even in background noise.

Because the ClearChoice Exhibitions are totally independent, we are able to offer our clients the latest technology from leading manufacturers like Siemens, Puretone, GN ReSound, Widex, Starkey and many more.

How ClearChoice Exhibition Events benefit our customers

We are delighted to be of service to local residents

"My wife kept telling me to have my hearing checked, so we went together to my local Exhibition. I returned home with a full understanding of my hearing problem and I've not stopped wearing my hearing aids since."

"The aids which I had fitted at the ClearChoice Exhibition are so small and neat that nobody has even noticed that I'm wearing them. The best thing is that I am hearing much clearer even in company."

"I have been taking my dad to ClearChoice for several years for his aftercare service and he loves them!
The Audiologists make him feel comfortable and he always hears much clearer after his visit."
